

Republican Congressional District Convention.
FIRST DISTRICT.
A Republican Convention of the First Congressional District of the State of Wisconsin, composed of the counties of Kenosha, Racine, Walworth, Rock and Jefferson, is hereby called to meet at the village of Geneva, in Walworth county, on the 16th day of August, 1882, at 12 o'clock noon of that day, to nominate a candidate for Congress for the District for the next ensuing two years. Each Senate and Assembly District will be entitled to two delegates in the convention.

Committee.

Dated July 12th, 1882.

Republican Senatorial Convention.
A Republican Senatorial Convention of the Seventeenth Senatorial District, comprising the county of Rock, is hereby called to meet at the Court House, in the city of Janesville, on the 11th day of August, A. D. 1882, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, to select two Senatorial Delegates to represent the district in the Republican Congressional Convention for the First Congressional District of Wisconsin, to be held at the village of Geneva, Walworth county, on the 16th of August, 1882, and to transact any other business that may be deemed appropriate. Each of the towns and wards will be entitled to the same number of delegates as in the County Convention.

There are 2,400 applicants for position in the Interior department at Washington, and the number increases at the rate of from 75 to 100 each day.

The fine weather and an abundant harvest are having a depressing effect upon heavy operators in wheat, who undertook to hold the price up. Wheat has taken a great tumble and the "bulls" are thereby placed in a sorrowful mood.

This is a significant confession coming from a Southern Democratic paper, the Augusta, Georgia, Chronicle: General Clingman thinks that North Carolina will show 50,000 Liberal majority. It would not surprise us at all if there were very strange revolutions in all sections this fall.

The Milwaukee police have received a list of 113 watches and 50 pieces of jewelry, which were stolen from Hamilton & Race, of Beloit, on the 15th of June. So far there has been any clue obtained to the thieves, and the goods have not been heard from. A reward of $300 is offered for the arrest of the thieves and recovery of the goods.

It may be regarded as definitely settled that there will be no compromise in Pennsylvania. The bolters decline to have anything to do with any of the propositions of the Regular Republicans. This ends the matter, and the hope will be cherished by every true Republican, that the bolters and the Democrats will go down in the whirlpool of defeat together.

It may surprise a great many people, but it is a fact nevertheless, that the postoffice department at Washington has on its pay roll about 1,000 cats, which are regularly in its employ throughout the country, and are paid for their services with food and shelter. "These cats make themselves very useful by keeping rats and mice out of the mail matter. Their number and the cost of their maintenance are strictly accounted for, and when any one of them declares a dividend, that fact is duly reported, and provision is made for the newcomers."

All the obtainable testimony against Brady in the star route cases is now in, and it is doubtful if a conviction will be forthcoming. There seems to be enough testimony in to convict any man of crookedness, but it is assumed that Congress made all the appropriations for the "expedited" routes and thereby sustained Brady, it appears that a conviction is not likely to follow. There are eleven lawyers assisting in the defense, every person indicted having two or three. As Judge Wylie says, the defense is overruled with lawyers.

The Edmunds Mormon law has had the effect to break up several of the polygamous homes of Utah. Ex-Delegate Cannon, who had been ordered by his seat in the House because he had four wives, is in Washington, and in an interview he said that President Taylor, of the Mormon Church, placed his ten or a dozen wives in different houses and is only living with one of them. Other Mormons who have plural wives have separated from them entirely. Mr. Cannon says the example of President Taylor will be followed until several cases involving all the points in the Edmunds bill can be made up and taken to the Supreme Court of the United States and a decision obtained. The Supreme Court will uphold the law, as a matter of course, and that will be the end of polygamy.

The funeral of the late George P. Marsh, American Minister to Rome, took place in that city on Friday. The body was escorted to the Protestant cemetery by a procession composed as follows: A troop of cavalry, municipality, members of the prefecture in carriages, funeral car, members of the American legation, Italian ministry, high functionaries of various departments, representatives of Germany, England, France, Austria, Turkey, Spain, and Portugal, representatives of Court, and another troop of cavalry. There were five garlands of flowers on the coffin. The whole American colony was present. The coffin was covered by the American flag, and was deposited in the mortuary chapel at the cemetery, pending burial of the remains in the cemetery in September. There were no addresses. Mr. Marsh had been Minister to Italy since 1861, and was one of the brightest scholars that ever the United States honored with a foreign position. His widow will continue to live in Italy.

THE 'CONTEST' IN THE FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

On last Thursday the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin gave a review of the congressional question in all the districts in this State, and taking up the First District, it said:

In the First District recent developments seem to point to a spirited contest. Congressman Williams is liable to meet with more opposition than seemed probable a month ago. The movement in favor of M. B. Eskine, of the firm of J. I. Case & Co., Racine, is liable to gather considerable strength. He will probably receive the support of the Racine and Kenosha county delegations. In Walworth county, it was supposed that T. D. Weeks would be a candidate, but Mr. Weeks was in Milwaukee a few days ago, and he stated positively that he would not, under any circumstances, be a candidate, which, as a matter of course, ends the matter as far as he is concerned. It is now more than probable that the Walworth county delegation will be almost equally divided between Williams and anti-Williams. It is supposed that Jefferson county will send to the convention a united delegation for Caswell. In Rock county a warm contest is going on in regard to the make-up of the delegation. It is said that one assembly district will send a delegation unfriendly to Williams. This would indicate that the convention will be almost equally divided between Caswell, Williams and Eskine, and the friends of the three gentlemen are having nothing undue that will promote their individual interests.

Those who live in the First congressional district and who have observed all the signs, will doubtless be surprised to learn that there will be a spirited contest to the district. In the first place we understand that Eskine has no congressional aspirations, and that he has said he will not allow his name to be used in the convention. In the second place there is no warm contest going on in Rock county, that any one has heard of, as to the make-up of the delegates to the congressional convention. In the third place, there are no indications that lead to the belief that there will be anything like an equal division of the votes in the convention among Williams, Caswell, and Eskine.

All this talk about a spirited contest going on in the district with equal chances for three candidates, has no foundation in fact. It is true that Mr. Caswell is a candidate, in other words, that he will allow his name to be used in the convention, and that he expects, as he has a right to expect, that the Jefferson county delegation will cast its vote for him. Mr. Williams is also a candidate and will be supported by Rock county, Walworth, Racine, and Kenosha. There may possibly be found a delegate here and there when the convention assembles who would like to vote for some one else but the indications warrant the statement that Mr. Williams will be re-nominated and that without any organized opposition to him.

PERSONAL NOTES.

The youngest bride ever heard of in the United States is Miss Cabot, who, though only 11 years and 7 months of age, was recently married to Thomas Payne by a regularly ordained minister in South Carolina. Her husband is bowed under the weight of 20 years.

San Francisco is jubilant in anticipation of a visit from President Arthur and his Cabinet, who will it is reported go thither after visiting the Denver Exposition. Mr. Arthur will be the second Executive Head of the United States to visit California during his term of office, President Hayes having been the first.

Alexander H. Stephens is well known as a friend of young men, and his name is associated with the education of many a boy struggling for a start in the world. But the extent of his good work in this direction is perhaps known to few. There are no less than fourteen young men and women dependant on his big heart for their education. For some of these he pays merely the tuition and for others all expenses. To each goes a check every month, signed by the nervous hand in the rolling chair. Since he re-entered Congress he has kept at school about this number of pupils, besides bestowing a too liberal hand his means on various other objects. Mr. Stephens spends more than his salary, and he has only a modest fortune.

THE BAPTISTS.

MILWAUKEE, July 28.—A Republican-Sentinel special from Madison says at the conference of the Baptist clergy and laymen of the Monona Lake Assembly to-day it was agreed that it was the duty of religious people to advocate prohibitory legislation, in case the old parties did not put forward men imbued with this idea, men who were friendly to prohibitory legislation should be supported. This expression is regarded as important, as the Monona Assembly is composed of several thousand people from the Northwestern States, representing all denominations.

TIRED OF WAR.

LONDON, July 28.—An unconfirmed report has been received that Arabi Pasha has proposed terms of peace, the conditions being voluntary exile and the retention of rank and pay of colonel for himself and nine of his colleagues. It is added that the Khedive had submitted the proposals to General Archibald Alison. It is believed that this step has been taken at the instigation of the Sultan. The report has caused a rise in Egyptian stocks.

A dispatch from Alexandria says: Arabi Pasha offers to retire to a Moslem monastery in Syria. Among his colleagues for whom whom he asks the same terms are Touba Pasha, Ali Pasha, Abdullah Pasha, and Mahmood.

The same telegram states that an armed engine was dispatched by the British to meet Raouff Pasha and two Ulemas, who came to discuss this proposal.

MME. PATTI.

New York, July 28.—A letter from Col. J. H. Mapleson, written July 17, in London, and received to-day, gives a more comprehensive idea than has been heretofore gathered from flying reports as to his intentions during the Patti season. He says he will open in New York in October, and, appearing three times a week, remain here ten weeks, leaving probably about the 22d of December. From New York the company will be taken to Boston, and from that place the tour is laid out in the following order: Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Baltimore, Washington, Buffalo, Pittsburg, Toronto. Mme. Patti will appear in each one of these cities. Col. Mapleson also writes that the Royal Opera of St. Petersburg has offered him $50,000 to cancel his Patti engagement and $10,000 to release Rubelli. These figures may perhaps be considered large, but of course some margin is to be allowed for menagerial exaggeration.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The President has not yet settled the question of a veto or an approval of the river and harbor bill. It will no doubt be determined at the Cabinet meeting to-morrow. At least such is the intention of the President and his advisers. At the meeting this afternoon the whole subject was discussed in all its bearings. The chief points made against it were its large gross amount, and the still graver matter of the improvements that are subject to criticism, because they are of local rather than of general interest. There is too much of this kind of appropriation in the bill to suit the President, but the friends of the bill pointed out the fact that this was an inevitable evil always incident to such bills. The power of the President to restrict the expenditure of the money and the time during which so much money could be spent economically was discussed. It is understood the Secretary of War has estimated the feasibility of the bill at an expenditure of eighteen millions of money within one year, yet he advised the approval of the bill.

FATAL LOVE.

RACINE, July 28.—A sensational attempt at suicide was unaverted by the Tribune correspondent this evening, notwithstanding the efforts of interested parties to keep it quiet. Shortly before midnight last night a girl named Nellie, living at the McFarland house, took a dose of a quarter of a drachm of strychnine, and was discovered nearly two hours later in a rigid state. Dr. Meacham, hurriedly summoned, used a stomach-pump, and by a great effort saved the girl's life. She says she wanted to die, and it is supposed to be caused by an unhappy love affair. She is handsome and 22 years old. Her parents live near Kenosha.

RACINE ENCAMPMENT.

RACINE, July 28.—Governor Rusk, Secretary of State Timme, Adjutant Chapman, and Mr. Reynolds arrived on the 5 o'clock train. The Governor was met at the depot by officers of the First Wisconsin Regiment and the postmaster and escorted to a hotel, where he is the guest of Postmaster Field. The visitors visited Camp Erskine to-night, and, together with the great crowd, witnessed dress parade. He was serenaded by a band this evening. To-morrow is Governor's Day, and he will review the troops on the public square in the afternoon. Excursion parties are expected from a number of towns, and the city will probably be crowded.

ably be crowded. The encampment is a grand one and everything is working lovely. The companies drill in battalion excellently.

CHAUTAUQUA MEETINGS.

CHAUTAUQUA, July 28.—The were a large assemblage at the meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, presided over by Mrs. President Hayes. Mrs. Hayes presided over a second large meeting, when addresses were made by Bishop Wiley of the M. E. church; Mrs. Dr. Davis of Cincinnati, and Dr. Alexander Sutherland, of Canada. This evening, after the lecture a large number of people attended the reception to Mrs. Hayes.

A LAKE SHORE STORM.

RACINE, July 28.—A fierce tornado passed over the territory on the Milwaukee and Racine counties last night, accompanied by large hail-stones, which laid low the growing crops and did considerable damage to farmers' property. Several outhouses and corn-cribs are reported blown down. The extent of the damage cannot be determined to-night.

CRUELTY TO CHILDREN.

New York, July 28.—Mayor Grace sat in his chair to-day for over an hour, listening to Mr. Eldridge T. Carr, President of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, pleading against the performance on the stage of certain young girls belonging to the Boston Miniature Ideal Opera Company at Wallace's Theatre. The Mayor declared that he could not allow any children to perform under sixteen years. James W. Morrissey, agent of the troupe, said that the troupe would perform surely on Monday evening.

POOR OLD MONTEREY.

The Gordian knot's at last untied, So it can work its way To future and to future fame, Our poor old Monterey.

For sixteen weary years I've toiled, To open a better day, For that almost forsaken spot, Our poor old Monterey.

Its dunes were always washing out, Its bulks would break away, The courts too showed their great disdain, For poor old Monterey.

And titles too, they tumbled over, A few could tell what way, But everybody was afraid Of poor old Monterey.

How many paupers dead and gone, How many lives to-day, That have been made so, falling for Our poor old Monterey.

Its floating mill went quickly down, Through fire and smoke one day, And everybody asked what next, For poor old Monterey.

And then its wooden mill went down, Cremated the same way, And everybody asked what next, From poor old Monterey.

A change comes o'er the gloomy scene, There's a new order of the day, My country all this time has been a dream, For poor old Monterey.

Because clear heads were looking for, Where money would repay, A place to put it, and they fixed On poor old Monterey.

Its wooden mill was soon reborn, Almost without delay, The courts all this time are becoming now, For poor old Monterey.

And better still, a Cotton Mill, About a year to-day, Will send up towers in compliment, From poor old Monterey.

Unto its sister, named a dwarf— Up-town forgive I pray— Because all this time has been a dream, For poor old Monterey.

'Twill not be very long before, A ribbon creek shall fly, Or which will mostly come and go, Through poor old Monterey.

Long live the spindle and the loom, As they go on to-day, The work, the wheel, the destiny, Of poor old Monterey.

And looking back through all these years, I must begin to say, That God is proving merciful, To poor old Monterey.

THE FIRST REGIMENT.

Special to the Gazette.
RACINE, July 28, 1882.—Thursday was a hot day at Camp Erskine, and a number of boys became prostrated from the heat, and the excessive use of ice water, but to-day it is quite cool and all have recovered except one member of the Monroe company, who is to-day seriously ill. All of Janesville's soldiers are in perfect health, and as yet have met with no misfortune. The dress parade last evening was a great improvement on that of the night before, but a few errors were made and the several companies have to-day been instructed and the parade to-night will undoubtedly be nearly perfect. The Mayor and Common Council held a special meeting last evening and decided to visit the camp to-night in a body. Gov. Rusk and staff will be here to-morrow when he will review the troops from the Court House.

A WONDERFUL METAMORPHIS.

Forced for by "Eight Reliable Citizens" of the city, the following remarkable story is published by a correspondent at Erie, Pa.:

The following remarkable story is vouchered for by eight reliable citizens of this city: William P. Baxter is a farmer, and has for many years owned a large farm situated between North East, Pa., and Ripley, N. Y. He is frequently in this city, where he is well known. Near to the Baxter farm there lived a family by the name of Fear, highly respected by their neighbors. About twenty-five years ago there was born in this family a girl, a sweet little cherub that became the pet of the neighborhood. They named her Rosa, and she grew up a lovely child, and in due time was sent to school. More she distinguished herself by most extraordinary proficiency. Her aptitude exceeded that of scholars ten years older than herself, and in less than two years she had passed every other pupil and stood at the head of her classes, the holder of all the honors conferred for her. At the age of fourteen she entered the service of Mrs. Baxter, the first wife of the farmer referred to. Rosa proved to be as good a girl for farm-house duties as she had been a student, and the Baxter family liked her so well that she was treated in every respect as though she was one of the family. She continued to live there, and when she had attained the age of eighteen her hand was sought in marriage by a young farmer from a neighboring village. For some reason, unaccountable at that time to her friends, Miss Fear declined the honorable offer, alleging that she had no desire to quit the roof of her kind friends. About this time it began to be noticed that Rosa's features were losing their feminine softness, and that the elegant contour of her hitherto symmetrical form was vanishing, and giving place to masculine ruggedness. Her hands that were once so white and smooth began to grow large and coarse, and a down appeared on her upper lip. The presence of the latter greatly distressed her, and as it continued to grow in spite of all her efforts to prevent it, she became so ashamed that she refused to accompany the Baxters to the family pew in the village church, or to mingle in any of the social or parties in which she had once been a courted belle. The family who deeply regretted the loss of Rosa's personal attractions, began to wonder at her unaccountable conduct. But the girl appeared to be consumed with a secret. About six months after this, Rosa did not appear as usual one morning. No answer came from her room, and when it was broken open it was found to have been unoccupied that night. All Rosa's clothes were hanging up, even to those she was accustomed to wear about the house. Mr. Baxter sent his son Charles to look in the barn, intending to enter it himself, for a faint suspicion of suicide was uppermost in his thoughts. But Rosa was not in the barn, neither was she in any part of the farm. At last the searchers found two letters in her trunk, one addressed to Mrs. Baxter, the other to her parents. The contents of Mrs. Baxter's letter created the utmost consternation. It said that the writer had gone away; that it would be useless to follow her; that her life had become unbearable because within a year nature would reveal a complete metamorphosis, unsexing her and making it necessary to change her home and name. The astonished Baxters discovered that she had left all her female clothing down to the minutest article, and that she had attired herself in a suit of clothes belonging to Dr. A. A. Freeman, now an alderman from the First Ward in this city. Dr. Freeman was a yearly visitor at the Baxter farm, and he frequently spends a day there still. He was well acquainted with Miss Fear when she lived with the Baxters. He had been visiting there week before the girl disappeared, and had left a suit of clothes behind him by mistake.

Two months passed, and a letter came in Rosa's fine handwriting. It informed the family that the writer was well and was working as a farm hand in Ohio, but that the stamp of the letter would give clue to her address. Two years elapsed, and one morning a fine-looking young man with sun-burned face, magnificent beard and heavy, dark mustache, stood at the gate of the Fear homestead. "Do you know me, Mary?" he said to the young lady who came out to ascertain his business. The tones were deep and manly and there was a familiar ring in the stranger's voice. "It is Rosa," said the girl, and the next moment the spectators were regaled with a sight of Miss Mary Fear, clasped in the arms of a young fellow, giving back as many kisses on her mustache as he showered upon her uplifted face.

"Not Rosa, but Charles Fear now," said the widowed housemaid, and then he told them how, after that wonderful change, he had hired as male help; that he had made a little money and had come home to work the farm. Mr. Charles Fear runs that farm today, and Ripley has no citizen held in higher estimation than he. Since his return he has twice been appointed a teacher in the public schools, and has been seen on the Fear farm every day of the week.

Such is the remarkable story told to the Courier correspondent. The references given were hunted up, and although there was a reluctance to speak about it, all confirmed the story. Dr. Freeman was called upon regarding the suit of clothes, and he confirmed the account, stating also that he was acquainted with all the circumstances related. He further stated that in his opinion nature was unsexed in Rosa to Fear's sex, and at the age mentioned masculinity developed.

Judges Who Wear Gowns and Pay Their Clerks $40,000 a Year. It is not true, the attaches of United States Supreme Court say, that any of the Justices have had gowns made in Paris by Worth. They are all home made and have all been made by one family of people for nearly forty years. Zach Chandler had a very poor opinion of these gowns, for it is said of him that he once said to Salmon P. Chase, a former Chief Justice: "Salmon, when you have your d--old jacket on you look every inch a judge." There is no reason why one of these gowns should be called a jacket, for the skirt reaches the floor. The gowns are put on the Justices in what is called the robe room, adjoining the court, at five minutes to 12 o'clock, for the judges never go upon the bench until half noon. Then, after the Marshal's duty is done, the song about "God bless the United States and the Justices of this court," or words to that effect.

the arrival of the Justices having been previously announced, they take their seats and are ready for business. The clerkship of the court is worth more than the salary of four of the Justices, as it is said to frequently pay over $40,000 per year. The charges are simply terrible. It costs about a dollar for the clerk to look at you, and another dollar to get out of his sight. They have a little talk then of keeping the decisions back as long as possible, often a couple of months, and in the mean time if any one wants a copy of the decision it costs $2 for each page of one hundred words. There is no good reason why the decisions should not be put in type the day they are delivered, and furnished as the debates of Congress are furnished, the day following; but this was not the practice sixty years ago, and they never do anything about the court except in a time-honored but excessively slow manner. All agree, would be a great convenience, but it would take $10,000 a year out of the fees of the clerk, and of course it is not done. Several times bills have been prepared for introduction in Congress on the subject, but somehow nothing was heard of them afterward. Those who proposed them were convinced that it was not the custom, and they let the matter drop. The Supreme Court has always held that every bill relating to the court must first be laid before the committee on the judiciary, and for inspection, and strange as it may seem, they have always carried this point in their respect.

Petty Worries.

What a blessed thing it is that we can forget. To-day's troubles look large, but a week hence they will be forgotten and buried out of sight. Says one writer: "If you would keep a book of daily annoyances, and at the end of a year out of the fuss of the day, and of course it is not done. Several times bills have been prepared for introduction in Congress on the subject, but somehow nothing was heard of them afterward. Those who proposed them were convinced that it was not the custom, and they let the matter drop. The Supreme Court has always held that every bill relating to the court must first be laid before the committee on the judiciary, and for inspection, and strange as it may seem, they have always carried this point in their respect."

To be honest, as this world goes, it is to be one iron picked out of ten thousand. —Shakespeare.

"Golden Medical Discovery" is not only a great sovereign remedy for consumption, but also for consumptive night-sweats, bronchitis, coughs, influenza, asthma, and all other lung troubles, shortness of breath, and kindred affections of the throat and chest.

All is well that ends well. Onm Catlin, 49 Pearl Street, Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I tried various remedies for the piles but found no relief until I used 'Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.' I am entirely cured after a few applications." For sale by Palmer & Stevens and Sherer & Co.

A Lesson from Immigrants. A patient waiting for results through a long series of years is not a common thing of Americans. "Quick sales and small profits" is the motto, not of the enterprising country store-keeper alone; it appears in one form or another over almost every business announcement throughout the country. To its being acted upon, however, is undoubtedly due the irrepressible push which distinguishes the American from all mankind.

To it is undoubtedly due the rapid substitution of machinery for hand labor; the interminable division of labor in every branch of industry; to it is due the "manufacture" of farm products, and to it is due the striking disinclination, manifest everywhere, of the average American to enter upon a general plan for money making, which involves patient waiting through a series of years.

The rapid destruction of available forests has for some time attracted the serious attention of the Government and of individuals interested in forestry, and many incitements have been held out to any one who would undertake the growing of useful trees. But thus far not many of the natives have been attracted by the offers, and it has remained for the sober, industrious, and patient emigrants, Germans, Swedes, and Norwegians, to set us a wise example.

The Federal Government offers to give every man who is the head of a family one hundred and sixty acres of land, if he will plant twenty acres of it in forest trees. Can a young man afford to accept this offer and wait for his trees to grow? There is no doubt of it—but will he? The Bulletin recently alluded to the remarkable scarcity of black walnut. This tree flourishes in many of the Western States, especially in Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin. On fifty acres of such land as could be obtained here, 16,000 trees could be planted; when twenty years old they would be worth $5 a tree, or $80,000; when thirty years old they would be worth $20 a tree, or $320,000. It is said that every year, after the trees are ten years old, the nuts would be worth as much as a wheat crop from the same number of acres.

While the trees are growing any industrious farmer could obtain a handsome income by planting the remaining 110 acres. Surely, all this is a great inducement; at any rate, hundreds of far-sighted immigrants think so, and many young men out West are beginning to think so, too. While it is probable that the figures given above are rose-colored, it is certainly true that there is more in the Government offer than most people are aware of, and thoughtful young men in the East who see but little chance for rapid accumulation here may well consider it. —New York Bulletin.

Sketch of Gambetta Out of Power. Coming from the Chamber I saw M. Gambetta on the bridge opposite the Palais Bourbon, urging his portly person against a wind which chilled the Seine into a whirlpool, and made most of the stragglers clutch their hats despairingly. The great man has grown old with almost alarming rapidity, but not since from the moment of his departure from power that his eyes have brightened and his step has grown comparatively light. His face is flushed, and his eyes are sunken, not as a reliable informant who was with me when he passed told me, because of dissipation, but because of overwork. Never man looked as Gambetta looked for twelve or fourteen weeks previous to his resignation. His doctor gave him the choice to die or to stop work, and before he was compelled to admit publicly that his physical energies were flagging came the political crisis which gave him repose. He went down to the Chamber on the day that I saw him with the air of a man who still had an important place there, and I observed that his face had been soiled on all sides as he went along. Wicked Dr. Blowitz, the Paris correspondent of the London Times, says that Gambetta still keeps the bi-colored cockade, which belongs to the Prime Minister's equipage, upon his coatman's hat, which if true, might be considered as an indication of great expectations. Gambetta is more frequently seen in public—at the theater, in society—now that the strain of his labor is relaxed. He is now visible in a box at the Franco, now heard of at a dinner party where the company is brilliant and gay. "He is not a man of the world," he can boast of tenue, but he can say a neat thing; from his corner of a sofa after dinner he sometimes sends forth a flight of witty and caustic sayings, sure to be long remembered. Every one who has heard him in the tribune knows that a remarkable faculty he possesses for crushing an adversary with a sharp retort, which stings for many days. —Paris Correspondence.

The consumption of rails, for renewals alone, amounts to half a million of tons annually in the United States railroads.

Mockers have been found in the Pyrenees as distinct in their resemblance to actual forms as any American mounds.

The national library of Mexico is reported to be a deplorable state, thousands of books lying about in confusion. A complete set of opier-macho furniture inlaid with mother-of-pearl was made a few years ago for the Queen of Spain.

Whales have been recently seen on the Georgia coast, and have become so bold that they even enter inland streams.

The pine needles of the Silurian forests have been converted into forest wood, which, besides being efficacious in cases of rheumatism, can be cured, folded and woven.

A French insane woman had a deep affection for pins and made them a part of her daily diet. After her death 1400 or 1500 hundred were removed from different parts of her body.

A man weighs about forty times as much as the new-born infant. The caterpillar of the silk-worm, when fully developed, is seventy thousand times heavier than when it came from an egg.

In some parts of Germany a curious custom exists. The peasantry who possess a bit of land, however small, never enter a church without having a nosegay in their hand. They thus show that they claim the consideration due those who possess some property in the parish.

The incaged of the East Indies builds an artificial mound in which its eggs are deposited to be hatched. The mound is sometimes four or five feet high, with a circumference of 150 feet, and the decay of the vegetable matter of which they are composed produces an artificial warmth sufficient to hatch the eggs.

In Germany, during the slippery season, temporary corks are used for horse-shoes. Two sharp pointed stabs an inch long are screwed into holes left in the shoe, and when the horse enters the stable they are taken out and a button screwed into their place, thereby preventing all damage to the horse and keeping the screw holes from filling.

General.

The municipal court today, was like a... Mr. Piny Norcross, left for Racine this morning, via Milwaukee.

—Miss Lizzie Van Elta, left today for Waukesha to join her father there. —The absent soldier will return Monday night, and give a livelier appearance to things.

—An appropriate apostrophe to the rain now would be "thou art so near and yet so far." —The usual number of seekers after harvest work, are strolling about the city and vicinity.

—Country visitors to-day gave the streets something of their wonted animated appearance. —Mr. J. M. Bostwick has a cabbage joke, which Capt. Vaukirk calls a summer story, because it is thin.

—With weather like the present, the excursion to the military encampment at Racine, will be a pleasant affair. —The telephone poles, are about erected with all attachments, and only a few of them are not ready for the wires.

—Miss Lottie Tibbitts, returned home last evening from Geneva Lake, where she had been spending a short time. —Potatoes, which were selling at 75 cents per bushel in the fore part of the week, were offered at 40 cents to-day.

—A squad of Janesville Guards, eight in number, left home to-day to join their companions in encampment at Racine. —Several gentlemen were noticed on the street last evening wearing overcoats. They were doubtless comfortable enough.

—Several parties are being made up for excursions into the country next week. Some will go on camping expeditions. —Marshall Hogan is industriously at work seeing to the abatement of nuisances, ordered suppressed by the health department.

—Cole's circus agents hired a number of teams this morning, and are flooding the surrounding country with highly colored posters. —It is probable that there will be a game or two of base ball here next week. Several clubs have expressed a strong desire to play the Mutuals.

—Mr. David W. Watt, treasurer of Foranpau's great show, arrived home this afternoon for a brief visit. He left the show at Mansfield, Ohio. —There were two more dog fights on Main street this morning, but they were between the class of dogs who believe in living to fight it out some other time.

—Mrs. A. H. Caldwell, one of the most successful florists in the county, presented to the Gazette to-day with one of the choicest bouquets ever seen in this city. —A young son of Mr. C. H. Wilcox, met with a sad accident two days ago. While playing in a hammock, he fell to the ground and dislocated his collar bone.

—Prof. C. G. Tibbitts proposes to give a musical entertainment at an early day. His pupils, some of whom are rapidly developing into fine musicians will furnish the enjoyment. —Mr. C. B. Hinkley, has been appointed assistant superintendent of the Mineral Point division of the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, and will have his headquarters in Janesville.

—The excursion to Camp Erskine will leave at 7 a. m. to-morrow. Bob Stewart will be in charge of the train. The appearances from the advance sale of tickets, are that a large party will make the trip. —Joe Cook, a good natured, bull dog, familiar to the boys for his aquatic performances, has returned to his old haunts, after an absence of two years, and looks wise in front of F. C. Cook's jewelry store.

—The commissioners appointed to settle the condemnation proceedings, in the establishment of a highway on the Affton road, are meeting this afternoon in the court house and taking testimony. The question will doubtless be settled to-day. —V. W. Cole's circus advertising car arrived here last evening, in command of Mr. L. E. Cook. The car is a fine specimen of its class, and evidences the splendid manner in which Cole does everything.

—The base ball games yesterday, resulted as follows, the Detroiters requiring fifteen innings to beat Chicago; Detroit 3, Chicago 2; Buffalo 9, Cleveland 6; Worcester 12, Boston 11; Providence 7, Troy 4; Philadelphia 5, Metropolitan 0. —The funeral of the late John Chappell, who died yesterday morning, took place this afternoon. The remains were interred in Oak Hill cemetery, a large crowd of sympathizing friends being in attendance. The Rev. Mr. Pullen officiated.

—Dr. Geo. McCausley, has loaned his rifle to two young men who meditate the destruction of any living thing they may see on an excursion they will take next week. The Doctor should have requested their life insurance policies as a consideration. —A series of proumanade concerts will shortly be given in Cannon's Hall. Mrs. Noon's pupils are to furnish recitations, dialogues, etc. and Harry Anderson's band the music. We hear that the little people have the first evening's programme.

—The State Journal says there is a conference of Baptists being held at the Menomonee Assembly, "and is being led by Rev. M. G. Hodge, of Janesville. There is a good attendance, nearly all the Baptists upon the grounds being present, and much interest is manifested." —Conductor Rich was on the street this morning after having been confined to his home by sickness. In a few days he will start for the East where he will stay during his vacation. By continual attention to his business for many months he nearly wore himself out, and needs rest to regain his health.

Worthy Promotion.

It is with a good deal of pleasure that the Gazette makes the announcement that Mr. James M. Fox, of this city, has been appointed train dispatcher of the Mineral Point division of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway. Some ten years ago James was employed in the yard of that company in Janesville, and was always faithful and trustworthy.

Accidentally he received an injury in one of his hands while coupling cars, and when the wound healed properly, he studied telegraphy and learned it well, and afterwards was employed by the company at Milton, and Waukesha, and for a while was in Milwaukee. One year ago last spring he was sent to the company's office in this city, and has been with Mr. Noyes since that time. The other day he was called to Milwaukee, and not knowing for what purpose, he went with some feelings of misgivings, but he felt better when he was told that they wanted him to take the position of train dispatcher of the Mineral Point division. This was an honor James did not expect, and of course it was a genuine and a glad surprise. He will make a good officer. He has the right stuff in him and will succeed admirably.

—The annual premium list of the Young America Agricultural Society, has been published by the Gazette Printing Company, and of course, is neatly executed and very attractive. The fair will be held on the farm of George Cleland, in the town of Center, on the 20, 21, and 22 of September, 1882. It has had a surprising growth during the last three or four years. Seven years ago the boys started it on an exceedingly small scale, but year by year it grew under good management, and last year it assumed all the dignity of a first class agricultural exhibition. Next September our Janesville people should take a ride to the fair and see what young men can do in the way of organizing an agricultural society and managing it successfully. Older heads with more capital couldn't improve it.

—The Monterey water power has just been sold to the Janesville cotton factory. The sale was perfected late this afternoon, after 4 o'clock, and the transfer made complete. The new cotton factory will be managed by enterprising men, commanding sufficient capital to make it as large a manufactory as any in the West. —Dr. Pierce's "Pallies"—little liver pills (sugar-coated)—purify the blood, speedily correct all disorders of the liver, stomach and bowels. By druggists.
